Would you like to adopt a dog?
Our advices for welcome

After a dog's adoption, it's important not to go on holiday or on weekends during at least five weeks to offer to the dog a quiet environment.

The home :

When he arrives, keep the dog on a lead and show it its new house and the garden.

Show it its bedding that must be in a quiet place, where it will feel safe

On the first weeks, keep the dog on a lead even if your garden is fenced.

Your new dog may be lost and reserved. Don't worry, you have to give it more time to find one's bearing and adapt oneself to its new home (five or seven weeks)

The other inhabitants of the house :

Children :

It's very important that they don't oppress the dog, they must understand that it is forbidden to annoy the dog when it is lying in its basket and when it's eating

Explain them first that as soon as the dog will feel safe, it will become a formidable game companion.

Dogs :

introduce them in a neutral place and preferably on a lead

Walk them until they know each other.

If you have got several dogs, introduce its each one in its turn

After introductions, the new dog must enter first in your place.

Present at least one water dish per dog

Separate food dishes to avoid them fighting cats :

When you Make their introductions, the dog must on a lead to keep it under control

Be careful that the cat do not attack the dog

Keep the dog out Cat dishes, cat beddings, and cat litter boxes.

The cat should be able to isolate oneself for observe this newcomer.

Other pets :

For other pets in the house, you must do the same.. When you make the introductions, the dog must on a lead to keep it under control and make sure that each of them could feel safe in one's own little corner.

Life in family and at home :

the dish :

Remove its dish after 20 minutes, if it don't eat his meal : put away the dish and do that every day. It will make a habit of eating when and where you decide it.

If it don't eat on the first days, don't worry, it is a big change of life for it, it will not starve oneself to death

For puppy or large dog, divide its ration in 2 or 3 meal per day noises :

Some home noises such as vacuum cleaner, door bell, phone ringing, children's shout can frighten a dog

If the dog's panicking, you must ignore its behaviour not to reinforce it

It'll learn over time that nothing bad happens to it when noises appear suddenly walks :

when you go out for a walk, keep the dog on a lead to keep it under control as long as it has not a good recall

If you take your dog out on a long lead, you could work recall and strengthen your links with it rules of life :

Create rules of life for your new dog from the beginning

A dog need constancy. You must decide rules, setup them and above all else enforce them.

change of life :

Moving house, changing of job, having a baby ... Many change can arrive in your life.

Your dog will follow you everywhere in any event, solutions exist for keeping your dog near your whatever happens.
